Mrs. Harnden Dead—Family Dinner Party.

The community was greatly shocked when it became known on Saturday afternoon that Linn, wife of C. Archer Harnden, had passed away suddenly from a heart attack.

Mrs. Harnden was spending the week end with her mother, Mrs. William Leavitt of Fryeburg. She was a young woman of sterling character, and the deepest sympathy of all is felt for the bereaved family, who have met with such a great loss.

During the past week, a crew of men from the Maine State Highway Department have been working for the new bridge over the Saco at Walker's bridge, so the road is to be straightened between Walker Hill Farm and John Manchester's.

Frank Sanborn is enjoying a trip to Boston.

A large family party of ten sat down to a Thanksgiving dinner at Walker Hill farm. Dr. Walker and family remained until Sunday.

Mrs. George Walker and Philip Walker attended the benefit whist at I. O. O. F. Hall on Monday evening.

KEZAR FALLS
Bible Sunday Observed—Daisy Class Entertained—Elmer Emery Dead.

Sunday was observed as Bible Sunday, the minister preaching a sermon appropriate to the occasion and a male quartet supplementing the Congregational singing with two lovely selections, "The Solid Rock" and "Only Jesus." It is busy times within the churches, preparing for the "Day of Days." Decorations are transfiguring, and Mother Nature with lavish hand provides the materials. The smell of balsam is in the air, the fire is in its glory and the Christmas tree biding its time.

Mrs. H. D. Granville entertained the Daisy Class, Tuesday evening, Dec. 2nd. Plans for Christmas Sunshine were made and a committee: Mrs. Florence Fox, Mrs. Sherman Stanley and Mrs. Vernon Sanborn, were appointed for the same.

Mrs. Cautkins, a trained nurse from Portland, is caring for W. O. Merrifield, who has been seriously ill for about three weeks.

Keith Bowie, who was so seriously injured by an auto accident in Portland last week, has many friends in Kezar Falls. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ridlon, live opposite Spectacle Pond and he lived with them several years. His mother being one of their daughters. His uncle, Myron Ridlon, is a druggist here. There are many other relatives grieving over his great misfortune. Always an exemplary boy and one with many friends, the world looked good to him and those who love him suffer in varying degrees with him.

For that Christmas gift—send the Norway Advertiser—you will find it an acceptable present.

Elmer Emery, after a short sickness, passed away to the great beyond on the evening of November 25th, at the home of Arthur Gupitill, where he had been boarding for some time. He was fifty-seven years of age and had not been in good health for some years. Services were held at 2 p.m., Friday, Rev. Arthur Callaghan officiating, taking for his text, "In my Father's House are many mansions." Two nephews from South Portland, Harold Norton and Clyde Knight, and some other friends were present. After the ceremony, they repaired to Riverside cemetery and Elmer was laid beside the mother, who had rested there many years and with the lovely flowers brought by the nephews, the flowers given by the church people and lying on the ground above them. The comforting words of the minister, the place seemed to be endowed with that "peace which passeth all understanding" and all was well.

One always ready to aid others is this time disabled himself, while using an axe and cutting a bad gash in one of his feet.

DEERING MEMORIAL CHURCH

Sunday, Dec. 14th, morning worship at 10:30, subject, "The Flocks of the Road." Church school at 11:45, Epworth League at 6:00. Evening service at 7:00, subject, "The Flocks of the Road."

"Man is a religious being. No tribe has ever been found that did not have a faith of some kind. The mental, the physical and the spiritual must all be developed normally or the individual will be grotesque. The Christian church furnishes that soul culture which every man must have to be normal. Christianity is the complement of the entire being."

Mr. Kinney is in Portland each evening of this week teaching Old Testament in a Standard School of Religious Education. The Wednesday evening devotional service will be led by Rev. Charles H. Young.

A very profitable district meeting in Calvary Church, Lewiston was attended last week by Rev. W. L. Bruleen and Rev. C. L. Kinney.

Obituary

GEORGE M. ELDER

South Paris—After some months of failing health, George Marshall Elder died Sunday morning, Dec. 7, at the home of C. L. Mills on the Hudson Knight farm, where he had been cared for most of the summer.

Mr. Elder was the son of the late Charles L. and Roxanna (Cummings) Elder, and was born in Webster, Dec. 12, 1852, but most of his life was spent in Paris, much of it in South Paris. Since leaving the farm, he has been employed in gardening and carried on a wood yard near the Grange Hall. He lost his home in the big fire in Market Square and has since boarded out.

He was not a member of any organization but was a regular and constant attendant at the Universalist Church.

He married Lucy Tribon, who died in 1918.

He is survived by two brothers, Charles Elder, a Boston lawyer, who lives in Malden, Mass., and Nelson G. Elder of South Paris.

The funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson G. Elder, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, attended by Rev. R. H. Colby. Burial in Riverside cemetery.

HIRAM H. TUCKER

Norway—Hiram H. Tucker passed away in Westbrook, Dec. 1, and the body was brought to Norway for the services at Spiller's Funeral Home, on Dec. 3, at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. W. Lyon, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Tucker was born in Lee, Nov. 28, 1853, the son of Stephen and Esther Rollins Tucker. The family resided several years in Norway, at Marston Street, and Mr. Tucker had employment in the shoe shop for a time. He moved to Westbrook about six years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara J. Tucker, three sons and two daughters. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Weir, W. E. Tucker, James and Floyd of Westbrook; and Mrs. Linwood Fogg of South Paris; also one brother, Percy Tucker, came back to her teaching with them.

Elizabeth and Barbara Millett spent Tuesday in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. George Greenleaf and family were at Highland Farm, Sunday afternoon. Hazel Scribner, teacher at the South Paris school, came back to her teaching with them.

Mrs. Merritt Savin recently spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Annie Holt, at Norway.

MISS FANNIE M. CROOKER

Norway—While preparing to retire, Thursday night, Dec. 4, at the home of Miss Maude Russell, Norway, Miss Fannie M. Crooker was stricken with a heart attack and passed away suddenly. She was the last of her family and but apparently was in her usual health when she went to her chamber.

The deceased was the daughter of Joel T. and Mary Matthews Crooker. She was born in Norway, January 3, 1861. With the exception of some years in Dorchester, Mass., she has always lived in Norway, returning from there seven years ago. She was the last of her family and for the past fourteen months lived at the Russell home. She was a member of the Grove Hall Universalist Church of Dorchester, Mass.

She leaves a niece in Chicago, Miss Cora Abbott; two cousins in Norway, Mrs. Carrie Russell and Mrs. Stella Libby, and another cousin, Mrs. Hattie Long of Somerville, Mass.

Services were held Sunday afternoon from Spiller's Funeral Home, Rev. Conrad B. Rheiner officiated. There were many beautiful flowers. The bearers were Ernest Moors, Glenn R. McIntire, James N. Favors and Harry A. Packard. Interment was in the family lot at Norway Pine Grove cemetery. There was a good delegation from the church, besides relatives and other friends.

At Mrs. Morton's Charley went in to see what Tom thought he had done. "You must have done much longer," he said. "It was necessary, but young lovers shouldn't be timed on such occasions. Here the larger fairer half of the cub Tom shot, a sample supply of the small game and the cub of Tom, while Victor had cub be shot for his share, and of the cub's skin, some fish, part of a fox and a brace of the partridges. Victor's share was taken to his home, which grew to be his parents'.

At the news of this the catamount skin was intended to be sent to Boston to be mounted at the Nash Establishment. At Victor Randolph's where one of the best guns had been borrowed, a quart of the salt water was sent to the pickled and some fresh roasts and the arm were left with them.
